

Aleff Group Publications: October 2001

The Aleff Group publishes a wide range of multimedia programs, primarily in the life sciences.

Independence

The Aleff Group is fully independent as a publisher. It focuses on the needs of professionals and professional groups working in highly-regulated, closely scrutinised, knowledge-driven organisations and industries.

Methodology: A7™

Programs are developed to a particular methodology, "A7" which focuses on the program's user, and the practical needs that user has for the knowledge the programs contain.

The Strata™ Approach

Aleff Group also has its own presentation methodology, "Strata", which builds on over fifteen years experience in designing and building knowledge systems.

Access

The benefits of A7 and Strata are easily accessible, highly trustworthy programs, rewarded by high levels of use. As an example: during the UK FMD outbreak, the AleffGroup AVIS website was receiving close to three million hits and two million downloads a month. You may visit this site on www. Aleffgroup.com/avisfmd.

Purchasing Programs

Programs are modular and may be bought individually or in combination, licensed to individuals, units or enterprises. Quotations are available on request.

Peer Review

All publications are peer-reviewed. For the most part, they are produced in collaboration with an international organisation, reference facility or known centre of excellence.

Updates

Programs are updated on a regular basis.

New Titles

New titles are always in development: if you would like to propose a title, or offer a title for publication, please contact us.

Delivery Medium

The delivery medium is CD-ROM and the internet. Intranets and company specific extranets are also supported.

Languages

Some programs are offered in more than one language. Languages supported include English, French, German, Italian, Spanish. Arabic is available on request.
